RE: Recommendation for City of Seward Vacancy on KPB Planning Commission

Dear Mayor Pierce:

I am writing regarding the City of Seward's vacancy on the Kenai Peninsula Borough Planning Commission. The city's seat has been vacant since October, 2021 following Cindy Ecklund's resignation when she was elected to serve on the KPB Assembly.

On April 25, 2022, the Seward City Council met and considered one application that had been submitted through the borough's online system. This letter is to confirm that council wishes to recommend applicant Troy Staggs as Seward's representative on the commission and would like your support for his appointment.

If there is any additional information you need from Seward, please let me know.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Letter of reference for Troy Staggs

To Whom it May Concern,

I am pleased to provide this letter of reference for Troy. He worked directly for me for about 4 years, before I retired at the Cummins Technical Center in Columbus Indiana. Troy worked in the maintenance department as a maintenance technician.

Above all, Troy is honest. Next, he is incredibly industrious and self motivated. There was no task that he was afraid to undertake. Being a self-starter, Troy initiated numerous projects and did necessary research to bring the appropriate tools to the project.

I hope this helps Troy secure whatever job he's applying for. You may feel free to contact me per information below.

Sincerely,

Mark Nethercutt
