Subject: NO NEW TAXES especially a bed tax

To whom it may concern,

We are getting sick and tired of this poorly conceived notion of a "bed tax" being proposed again and again. It is grossly unfair to tax one small segment (lodging) of one industry (tourism). A good example of majority taking advantage of a few hard-working business owners.

It has been defeated and/or withdrawn many times in the past. Drop it...now and forever!

Must we continue year after year fighting this bed tax issue? The newest effort says to put it on the borough-wide ballot, including Seward, but Seward would be exempt from the tax. Where is the logic in this? At the very least, postpone an assembly vote on it until the budget is approved in March.

Please postpone addressing a "bed tax" until March at which time a group will provide information about why a "Tourism Tax" would make more sense.

Corrected message

Hi

Please note my opposition to implementing a Bed tax. While I understand the need to generate revenue a Bed tax just seems too narrow.

Will it include RV parks, campgrounds, hospitals, doctor's offices? How about Air B&B's, VRBO and hostels? How would they be identified if they don't have a business license?

Would you then single out other business sectors, such as eco tourism, bear viewing, sports fishing or the Arts? How about a plate tax or a mug tax ?

We all pay sales tax and adding on to only one sector is truly unfair.

I can support your effort to review the situation and report out in March.

Subject: Postpone bed tax discussion to March

The professional bed and breakfast community of Homer urges the Borough Assembly to hold discussions in March on the proposal for a bed tax. The borough revenue need will be more clear, and all pro and con aspects of the proposal can be thoughtfully considered.

As we have stated before, we question the efficacy and the equitability of a bed tax and recommend the assembly explore very feasible alternatives such as a tourism tax that can be lower and include all businesses that benefit from tourism, not just accommodations. Also, there are many accommodations that are not collecting sales tax at all.

Our members are required to have a state business license, proper insurance and a permit to collect sales tax. What about the many accommodations listed on AirB&B and VRBO and elsewhere that have no business license and are collecting no sales tax? A recent search of Air B&B brought up 161 properties in the Homer area. A test of 18 of these properties revealed that only 6 (1/3) had a state business license, which probably means that they are not collecting sales tax either. With nightly rates up to $325, this is significant revenue that is not being reported and collected.

We cannot support a borough tax that singles out one business segment and impacts legitimate accommodations businesses while those flying under the radar and collecting no tax continue to operate with impunity. A bed tax will increase the cost of staying in Homer, competing AirB&Bs will raise their rates as well and continue to not pay any tax. These entities are known and are advertising right under our noses.

Please do not fast-track this discussion. It is too important.

Respectfully submitted,

Marcia Kuszmaul

Subject: Ordinance for Bed Tax

Hello All,

I read recently in the Peninsula Clarion that Assembly member Dale Bagley has submitted an ordinance for discussion at tonight's assembly meeting that would place a question on the October 2018 ballot asking voters whether the borough should institute a 6 percent tax in the borough on temporary lodging and overnight camping with an up to 3 percent exemption for cities that have similar taxes in place.

I am a small business owner and Innkeeper at the Driftwood Inn in Homer, Alaska. While we all know why a bed tax is not a good idea in this economic climate; I would like to instead discuss why it is reasonable to postpone this discussion until March.

Mayor Pierce and his Chief of Staff Mr. Quick have stated that they believe they can balance the budget with no new taxes. I believe they should be given the opportunity to do the work and present it. There is no reason to get the cart before the horse and introduce new taxes before presenting the budget. Especially, because this new tax could have a huge economic impact on small businesses on the lower peninsula. My small business was down 5% this year; I try to keep my staff working year round but it is getting harder and harder to do that. Another down year will significantly reduce jobs during the winter in Homer. We should postpone this discussion until March 1, 2018 to give Mayor Pierce the opportunity to present a balanced budget with no new taxes.

Respectfully,

Adrienne

Good Afternoon Assembly Members

I am writing to ask for your support in our request to delay the vote on the proposed Bed Tax. The Homer Chamber of Commerce & Visitor Center is excited to be working with a new Borough Mayor and his staff and would like them to have an opportunity to review the budget before any tax is voted through for an October ballot.

Thank you for your consideration
